FLOOR DEBATE

April 4, 2002

LB 1236

State Fairs, so I'm sure they will be there enthusiastically. The University of Nebraska is also very willing to do this. They did say to me that they have other things going on this session, they don't want to make anybody mad they're not pushing this, but they consider themselves and I consider them to be the key partner, the key partner to financially rebuilding the State Fair. Because what's going to happen out there, the way that's going to have to be rebuilt in part is through the leasing of ground, and the University of Nebraska is in a situation where that is...that they possibly are going to be a partner in some of those endeavors that will provide the financial underpinnings for the State Fair Board. So I don't think there's a more important person to try to get to the table and involve on a regular...on a regular basis than the university, so I just throw that out to you and would like to see them actually on the board. Thank you.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Senator Wehrbein.

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: Mr. President, members, this is a discussion I really didn't want in the middle of, but I'm going to ask not to support Senator Wickersham's amendment. I hear his points. In fact, I think probably the attendance issue is...may be...get to be a factor as Chairman of the Arts Council particularly, but I did support Senator Beutler's amendment originally as it was, bringing two on, and I will stay with that commitment and not cloud the issue by going with more ex officio. Most of what you had in there, Senator Wickersham, is ex officio, except the two that Senator Beutler brought up. So I, with that, I'll...you'd like to have a question? Yes. I will...may I talk to Senator Wickersham, Mr. Speaker?

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: If he'll respond, yes.

SENATOR WICKERSHAM: (Microphone malfunction) Yes. Senator Wehrbein. Hello? Senator Wehrbein, I think (microphone malfunction)...understanding. I do have another amendment filed and I would withdraw that if the ex-officio amendment to Senator Beutler's amendment goes. If the two members that Senator Beutler wants on become ex-officio members, I'll withdraw the subsequent amendment. I don't care about the subsequent
